Manor Falls to Rouse in Season Opener

By: Debbie Tucker
Manor Community News

The Manor Mustangs met Leander Rouse at 7:30 pm on Friday, August 26th at the A. C. Bible Jr. Stadium in Leander. This was the first non-district game for Manor with district games beginning October 6th against Austin-Anderson. The weather seemed perfect for a night of football with a beautiful sunset and a nice breeze. Many members of the Manor community came out to support their team!

Manor coaches couldn't find the right tactics or strategy against Rouse Friday

Manor kicked off and Rouse took over on the 30 yard line. Rouse could not achieve a first down and was forced to punt. Manor moved the ball until a quarterback sack left the Mustangs with a fourth down and fourteen yards situation and a decision to punt. Then Manor quarterback Seth Slagel (#7) paired up with Kenny Miller (#5) for a series of gains but Manor ended up punting the ball.

In a series of back and forth, Manor defense was strong. Rouse did make a 15 yard run only to have it returned due to a penalty. Miller scored a touch down in the first quarter and the kick was good, giving Manor the lead, 7-0. The second quarter gave Manor another touch-down by Miller with a completed extra point changing the score to Manor 14, Rouse 0. Rouse answered with 7 points and then 3 sounded, the stands emptied and everyone on the field sought cover. As is the rule in a game when lightning is detected, there must be 30 minutes of no lightning before the game can resume safely. Numerous bolts of lightning lit up the sky, delaying the game further. Finally, the alarm sounded again, signaling an "all clear" and indicating a safe return to the field and the stands.

Rouse came out energized and hungry to score. They quickly racked up 21 points in the third quarter. Manor quarterback Slagel scored on a run with a good extra point. Manor struggled to defend their goal

Just prior to half time, ominous storm clouds began moving in as the winds became stronger. The announcer reminded the crowd that should the alarm sound due to lightning, the stands and the field would need to be vacated. Just as the Mustang Drum Line completed their portion of the half-time, the alarm quarter and ended up being defeated by a score of 44 to 21.

Manor will battle Bastrop at home on Friday September 2nd at 7:30 p.m. They will also celebrate Senior Night, recognizing the Mustang seniors of 2016-2017. Let's all come out for a great night of football and support our team!

THIS WEEK IN ASTRONOMY See the Space Station, Milky Way

By: Joseph Macry
Contributing Writer

The International Space Station (ISS) will be visible during mornings this week. The highest and brightest pass will be Sunday morning, September 4. At 6:05am Sunday morning, the ISS will appear about thirty degrees above the west-southwestern horizon. Then it will pass high over head, past the "W"-shaped constellation Cassiopeia, into the northeast, disappearing about 6:10am. It will appear brighter than any star in the sky.

The Sun rises about ten minutes after 7am this week, and sets about ten minutes before 8pm. Total daylight is now less than 12 hours and 45 minutes. The sky will be lightening up (start of civil twilight) by a quarter to 7am, and getting dark (end of civil twilight) by a quarter past 8pm.

The Moon will be gracing our evening skies this week. On Friday, September 2, the thinnest sliver of a crescent moon will be right next to Jupiter, low on the western horizon.

The Milky Way is easily visible if you can find clear, dark skies. It forms a glowing band that stretches from Sagittarius (The Archer) in the south, through Aquila (The Eagle) and Cygnus (The Swan) high overhead, down to Cassiopeia (The Queen) in the north-northeast. The dark patches that run down the middle are not empty spaces, they are actually lanes of dark cosmic dust and clouds blocking your view of our home galaxy. The next total solar eclipse will occur August 21, 2017. The path of "totality" will pass over the United States, in a path roughly connecting Oregon, Wyoming, Missouri, and South Carolina. Here in Manor, the maximum eclipse will occur at 1:10pm, when the Sun will be about 65 percent obscured. If you want to see the total eclipse, start making your travel plans soon. To see more details of this eclipse, including tips for safe solar viewing, visit the web site www.eclipse.gsfc.nasa.gov.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) After much traveling this year, you're due for some settled time with family and friends. Use this period to check out situations that soon will require a lot of serious decision-making.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Keep that keen Bovine mind focused on your financial situation as it begins to undergo some changes. Consider your money moves carefully. Avoid impulsive investments.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You'll need to adjust some of your financial plans now that things are changing more quickly than you expected. All the facts you need haven't yet emerged, so move cautiously.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Personal and professional relationships dominate this period. Try to keep things uncomplicated to avoid misunderstandings that can cause problems down the line.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) That elusive goal you'd been hoping to claim is still just out of reach. But something else has come along that could prove just as desirable, if only you would take the time to check it out.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) This is a good time to get away for some much-needed rest and relaxation. You'll return refreshed and ready to take on the workplace challenge that awaits you.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Confidence grows as you work your way through some knotty situations. Watch out for distractions from well-meaning supporters that could slow things down.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Consider spending more time contemplating the possibilities of an offer before opting to accept or reject it. But once you make a decision, act on it.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You're in a very strong position this week to tie up loose ends in as many areas as possible. Someone close to you has advice you might want to heed.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Congratulations. This is the week you've been waiting for: After a period of sudden stops and fitful starts, your plans can now move ahead with no significant disruptions.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You're in an exceptionally strong position this week to make decisions on many still-unresolved matters, especially those involving close personal relationships.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) The new moon starts this week off with some positive movement in several areas. A special person becomes a partner in at least one of the major plans you'll be working on.

BORN THIS WEEK: You work hard and get things done. You also inspire others to do their best. You would do well heading up a major corporation.

ASK DEE DEE

Dear Dee Dee:

I have kids in the Manor schools and it seems like I am forever not knowing about things until the last minute. By that, I mean events, things that need to be signed, or things I need to provide for my kids. Is it just me, or are parents not in the loop enough?

Sincerely, Margaret

Dear Margaret:

Parents can feel frustration especially when they have multiple children attending school. And with each age/grade comes different activities, opportunities, events, and requirements such as documents needing completion and signatures, as well as costs. School districts usually seek to provide information a number of ways so as to keep parents informed. There's the website for the district which is also broken down by each school as well as a calendar of events. Many districts also contact parents by phone with automated information. In addition, teachers and administrators provide papers that are sent home to update parents on upcoming events and what is needed from parents. In the end, parents need to seek to stay informed on their own and be involved in the education process. As a parent, it is important to reach out to teachers and develop relationships with them to stay informed on events as well as on their child's progress. Volunteering can also provide much needed support for schools and helps parents be "in-the-know" about what's going on. Sometimes it is a challenge with everything parents have going on, but staying involved and informed will pay off in the end for everyone.

Sincerely, Dee Dee

Make The Most Of Financial Gifts To Your Grandkids

By: Edward Jones

Contributed Story

Did you know that National Grandparents Day is less than a week away? While this “Day” is not as widely known as Mother’s Day or Father’s Day, it is nonetheless important, as it recognizes the key role that grandparents play. If you are a grandparent yourself, you might expect some cards or phone calls or emails from your own grandchildren – but you will probably experience even greater enjoyment in the gifts you can give them. If you’re thinking of making a financial gift, consider your options carefully.

To begin with, don’t forget about your own needs. As much as you love your grandchildren, you can’t afford to provide significant financial gifts to them at the expense of your own retirement savings or the resources you might need for health care or long-term care. So, review your budget to determine what you can afford to give. This amount may change year by year, depending on your circumstances, so you may want to review your potential gifts annually.

However, assuming you can afford to give regularly to your grandchildren, how should you go about it? Here are a few possibilities:

Establish a 529 plan. A college degree is a very good investment in your grandchildren’s future – but higher education comes with high costs. If you want to help your grandkids go to college, you could establish a 529 plan. Earnings in a 529 plan can grow federal tax-free and will not be taxed when the money is taken out to pay for college. Plus, you may receive state tax incentives if you invest in your home state’s 529 plan. (However, if withdrawals are not used for higher education expenses, the earnings portion is fully taxable and will incur a 10% penalty.)

Keep in mind, though, that a 529 plan could affect your grandchild’s financial aid. While a 529 plan owned by a grandparents generally won’t be reported as an asset under the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), withdrawals used for school will be treated as student income on the next year’s FAFSA, and so could lower your grandchild’s financial aid package. So you could wait for your grandchild’s final year of college, when he or she won’t be applying for future financial aid, before you allow withdrawals from the 529 plan. (You may want to discuss a 529 plan’s potential financial aid impact with a financial aid professional.)

Contribute to a custodial account. You can give money to your grandchildren through a custodial account, known as UGMA or UTMA. These are irrevocable gifts that minors gain control of at the age of majority. Be aware, then, that once they get the money, they can do with it as they choose, and their choices may be far different from what you had intended.

Pay college bills directly. You can simply write a check to the college to help pay for your grandchild’s expenses. By making any of these gifts, you can help your grandchildren move forward through life – and their journey can provide you with the gifts of pride and joy.

Capital Metro's Newest Route Helps Manor Residents Get Around Town!

Capital Metro is now offering a Manor Flex Route that can take you to the grocery store, a doctor's appointment, City Hall and more. The 470 Manor Flex Route can also take you to the Manor Park & Ride, enabling easy transfers to Route 990 Manor/Elgin Express, which travels to downtown Austin.

The 470 Manor Flex Route operates weekdays from 7 a.m. – 7 p.m. and Saturdays from 10:30 a.m. – 5 p.m. Riders can request specific stops within 3/4 of a mile of the service's usual route by calling 512-478-7433 at least 24 hours in advance to make a reservation. Flex service operates on a first-come, first-served basis, and is limited to two deviations of the normal route per hour.

In addition to the reservation system, 470 Manor Flex Route offers riders the ability to "flag down" a bus when not near a bus stop by waving to the bus operator as the vehicle approaches. Please make sure you are standing on the right side of the street so the driver can safely pull over. Remember to always check for traffic when exiting, and never cross in front of the bus. If you are within two blocks of any bus stop, you are encouraged to board at the nearest bus stop.
